The people over at OnePlus have the internet talking about what they've got up their sleeves. Some specs have leaked on the next-gen OnePlus which could be called the OnePlus 4. or because the number 4 is an unlucky number overseas, may be called the OnePlus 5. Whatever name they go with if the specs are true, it'll be a popular choice for an unlock phone. DigitalTrends has the details.

It seems like it was only yesterday that OnePlus, the Chinese smartphone maker with a dedicated following, released the latest flagship in its eponymous series: The OnePlus 3T. But rumor has it that a brand-new model is on the horizon. It might be called the OnePlus 4, or even the OnePlus 5.

Here's everything we know about it so far.
