If you're looking for a bit of new sound for your PC, the Arctic Sound S362 at Vortez is a pretty decent set to get familiar with. This is a 2.1 system that promises and delivers a fair bit of performance for a great price. If you want to keep you audio to yourself, try out the much more expensive Sennheiser HD 558 over at TechReport

Geared for gamers, and reviewed over at HardwareHeaven is the Razer Blackshark headset. It looks interesting for sure.
