It appears that even though the Google event has been called off for October 29, due to hurricane Sandy, there are enough leaks that maybe we don't even need the event. BriefMobile has a video showing off the new Nexus 10 tablet with it's massive 2560x1600 screen. I love the resolution, but hate the bezel.

It's a super short video, but I guess it shows that it does exist. If you want to check out their gallery with tons of pics - take a look here .
